ORDINANCE NO. 20694

AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING RENTAL HOUSING; AMENDING SECTIONS 8.405, 8.415, 8.425, 8.430, AND 8.440 OF THE EUGENE CODE, 1971; AND ADDING SECTION 8.437 TO THAT CODE.

THE CITY OF EUGENE DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Section 8.405 of the Eugene Code, 1971, is amended to provide as follows:

8.405 Rental Housing – Purpose.

The purpose of this City Rental Housing Code is to provide minimum habitability criteria to safeguard health, property and public wellbeing of the owners, occupants and users of rental housing and to provide certain renter protections. The City Rental Housing Code is intended to supplement rather than conflict with the State of Oregon Residential Landlord and Tenant Act.

Section 2. Section 8.415 of the Eugene Code, 1971, is amended by adding the definitions of “Affordable Housing”; “Materially Incomplete Application”; “Meaningful Access”; “Open Application Period”; “Pet Deposit”; “Qualified Applicant”; “Rent”; “Screening or Admission Criteria”; “Substantial Change to Rental Agreement”; and “Week-to-Week Tenancy” to the list of definitions in alphabetical order, and amending the definition of “Security Deposit” to provide as follows:

8.415 Rental Housing – Definitions.

For purposes of sections 8.400 through 8.440 of this code, the following words and phrases mean:

Affordable Housing. Housing that is guaranteed to be affordable, under guidelines established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, to households that earn no more than 80 percent of the median household income for the city of Eugene, for a period of at least 20 years; or housing for low-income persons that is eligible for an exemption from systems development charges pursuant to section 7.725(2) of this code.

Materially Incomplete Application. A rental housing application that does not include the information and supporting documentation required by a landlord to conduct an application screening pursuant to the landlord’s adopted screening or admission criteria.

Meaningful Access. The ability of a person with limited English language proficiency to use or obtain language assistance services or resources to understand and communicate effectively, including but not limited to translation or interpretation services.

Open Application Period. The period of time during which a landlord will accept rental housing applications for a publicly advertised dwelling unit.

Pet Deposit. A refundable payment or deposit of money, however designated, the primary function of which is to secure the performance of a term of a rental agreement or any part of a rental agreement by a tenant who keeps a pet in the dwelling unit that is the subject of the rental agreement.

Qualified Applicant. An applicant that meets the landlord's screening or admission criteria.

Rent. Any payment to be made to the landlord under the rental agreement, periodic or otherwise, in exchange for the right of a tenant and any permitted pet to occupy a dwelling unit to the exclusion of others and to use the premises. "Rent" does not include security deposits, fees, or utility or service charges as described in this City Rental Housing Code or ORS Chapter 90.

Screening or Admission Criteria. A written statement of any factors a landlord considers in deciding whether to accept or reject an applicant and any qualifications required for acceptance. "Screening or admission criteria" includes, but is not limited to, the rental history, character references, public records, criminal records, credit reports, credit references and incomes or resources of the applicant.

Security Deposit. A refundable payment or deposit of money, however designated, the primary function of which is to secure the performance of a rental agreement or any part of a rental agreement. As used in the City Rental Housing Code, a pet deposit is not considered a security deposit.

Substantial Change to the Rental Agreement. A change of terms from those included in a prior rental agreement between a landlord and tenant that substantially disadvantages the tenant, and the landlord does not provide for a commensurate decrease in rent. Examples of substantial changes to a rental agreement include, but are not limited to: tenant responsibility for payment of utilities previously included in the monthly rent; tenant responsibility for payment for a parking spot previously included in the monthly rent; landlord no longer allowing pets to occupy the dwelling unit; reduction of space available for tenant use; reduction of amenities available for tenant use; and removal of furnishings from furnished units.

Week-to-Week Tenancy. A tenancy that has all of the following characteristics: occupancy is charged on a weekly basis and is payable no less frequently than every seven days; there is a written rental agreement that defines the landlord's and the tenant's rights and responsibilities under Oregon law; and there are no fees or security deposits, although the landlord may require the payment of applicant screening charge.

Section 3. Section 8.425 of the Eugene Code, 1971, is amended by renumbering subsections (15) and (16) as subsections (20) and (21) respectively, amending subsection (20), and adding new subsections (15), (16), (17), (18) and (19) to provide as follows:

8.425            Rental Housing – Standards and Protections.

*****

(15)    Maximum Security Deposit.

(a)    If a landlord requires a security deposit as a condition of tenancy, except as provided in subparagraphs (b) and (c) of this subsection (15), a landlord may not collect a security deposit that exceeds an amount equal to two months' rent for the dwelling unit.

(b)    Notwithstanding subparagraph (a) of this subsection (15), a landlord may require an additional security deposit if the landlord and tenant agree to modify the terms and conditions of the rental agreement to permit a pet or for other cause and the additional security deposit relates to the modification. The additional security deposit authorized by this subparagraph (b) may not exceed an amount equal to one month's rent for the dwelling unit.

(c)    Notwithstanding subparagraph (a) of this subsection (15), a landlord may require an additional security deposit if the landlord enters into a rental agreement with a tenant whose rental housing application the landlord could have denied pursuant to ORS 90.304. The additional security deposit authorized by this subparagraph (c) may not exceed an amount equal to one month's rent for the dwelling unit.

(d)    If a landlord requires an additional security deposit authorized by subparagraphs (b) or (c) of this subsection (15), the landlord must allow the tenant at least three months to pay the additional security deposit.

(e)    In addition to the security deposits authorized by subparagraphs (a) through (c) of this subsection (15), a landlord may collect a separate pet deposit unless the tenant's pet is a service animal or companion animal that a tenant with a disability requires as a reasonable accommodation under fair housing laws.

(16)    Applications Processed in Order Received.

(a)    If a landlord advertises the availability of a dwelling unit, the landlord must specify in the notice advertising the dwelling unit the date and time that the landlord will begin accepting rental applications as well as the open application period. The notice advertising the dwelling unit must also inform applicants of the ability to request additional time to ensure that applicants have meaningful access to the rental housing application. The notice advertising the dwelling unit may provide the landlord's contact information and/or a website address, internet link, or other written method of communicating information to prospective tenants.

(b) A landlord must digitally or manually record the date and time of receipt of each rental housing application received during an open application period. If a rental housing application is received by a landlord prior to the start of the open application period, the landlord must digitally or manually record the date and time of receipt of that application as 8 hours after the start of the open application period.

(c) A landlord may simultaneously process multiple rental housing applications, but must accept, conditionally accept, or deny rental housing applications in order of receipt.

(d) If a landlord maintains a waitlist for filling available dwelling units instead of advertising the availability of dwelling units and using an open application period, the landlord must add applicant names to the waitlist in order of receipt.

(e) When a landlord utilizes a waitlist to fill a dwelling unit vacancy, a landlord may simultaneously process multiple rental housing applications but must accept, conditionally accept, or deny rental housing applications in order of receipt.

(f) If an applicant requires additional time to ensure meaningful access to a rental housing application, the applicant may submit a request for additional time to the landlord. The landlord must document the date and time of the landlord's receipt of the request for additional time. If the applicant submits a rental housing application within 24 hours from the time of submission of a request for additional time, the date and time of the request for additional time will serve as the date and time of receipt of the rental housing application for purposes of determining the order in which applications are received.

(g) Upon request by an applicant, a landlord must notify the applicant of the applicant's position in line for a particular dwelling unit.

(h) A landlord must offer tenancy to the first qualified applicant who provides a rental housing application. If that applicant does not accept the offer of tenancy within 48 hours of the time the offer is made, the landlord must review the rental housing applications in order of receipt and make an offer of tenancy to the next qualified applicant who provided a rental housing application. The landlord must repeat this process until an applicant accepts the offer of tenancy.

(i) A landlord may refuse to process rental housing applications that are:

1. Materially incomplete; or
2. Submitted by an applicant who has violated a rental agreement with the landlord three or more times during the 12-month period preceding the date of the application, and the landlord can provide documentation of the violations.

(j) Subparagraphs (a) through (i) of this subsection (16) do not apply to rental housing applications for the following types of dwelling units:

1. Affordable housing;

2. A dwelling unit occupied by the landlord as the landlord's principal residence;
3. A unit of middle housing when the landlord's principal residence is another unit of middle housing on the same lot or parcel;
4. An accessory dwelling unit located on the same lot or parcel as the landlord's principal residence;
5. A dwelling unit located on the same lot or parcel as an accessory dwelling unit occupied by the landlord as the landlord's principal residence;
6. A dwelling unit that will be shared with an existing tenant who has a separate rental agreement for the dwelling unit; and
7. A dwelling unit not advertised or rented to the general public.

(k) Nothing in this subsection (16) diminishes or otherwise affects any duty of a landlord under federal, state, or local law to grant a reasonable accommodation to an individual with a disability.

(17) Relocation Assistance.

(a) Termination Without Cause or for a Landlord Qualifying Reason.

1. Except for those landlords and tenancies exempt from payment of relocation assistance as provided in subparagraphs (f) and (g) of this subsection (17), and except as provided in subparagraph (b) of this subsection (17), a landlord must comply with the relocation assistance notice and amount requirements in subparagraphs (a)2. and (a)3. of this subsection (17) if the landlord terminates a rental agreement:

a. Without cause during the first year of occupancy as provided in ORS 90.427; or

b. Because the landlord has a qualifying reason for termination under ORS 90.427.

2. Prior to the termination of a rental agreement pursuant to subparagraph (a)1. of this subsection (17), a landlord must deliver a written notice of termination of the rental agreement to each affected tenant. The termination notice must be delivered to the tenant at least 90 days before the termination date designated in the notice. The termination notice must specify the amount of relocation assistance for which the tenant is eligible and must include a description of the tenant's rights and obligations under this subsection (17).

3. Not less than 45 days prior to the termination date in the notice of termination required by subparagraph (a)2. of this subsection (17), the landlord must pay the tenant relocation assistance in an amount equal to two months' rent for the dwelling unit. The amount of relocation assistance required by this subsection applies per dwelling unit and not per each individual tenant.

4. A tenant who remains in the dwelling unit after the termination date in the notice of termination required by subparagraph (a)2. of this subsection (17) without the permission of the landlord must immediately repay to the landlord the relocation assistance paid by the landlord pursuant to subparagraph (a)3. of this subsection (17).

(b) Landlord Declines to Renew Fixed Term Rental Agreement.

1. Except for those landlords and tenancies exempt from payment of relocation assistance as provided in subparagraphs (f) and (g) of this subsection (17), in the case of a fixed term rental agreement with a specified ending date that falls within the first year of a tenant's occupancy of the dwelling unit, the landlord must, at least 90 days prior to the specified ending date of the fixed term rental agreement, provide the tenant with a written statement informing the tenant of the requirements of subparagraph (b)2.

2. For a tenant to be eligible to receive relocation assistance pursuant to this subparagraph (b), the tenant must, at least 60 days prior to the specified ending date of the fixed term rental agreement, provide the landlord with written notice of the tenant's desire to renew the fixed term rental agreement.

3. Within 30 days of the date of the notice described in subparagraph (b)2. of this subsection (17), the landlord must either:

- a. Provide the tenant written notice that the landlord declines to renew the fixed term rental agreement and pay the tenant relocation assistance in an amount equal to two months' rent for the dwelling unit; or
- b. Provide the tenant written notice that the landlord agrees to renew the fixed term rental agreement.

4. For purposes of this subparagraph (b), a landlord declines to renew a fixed term rental agreement if the landlord conditions the renewal on a tenant's agreement to a substantial change to the rental agreement.

5. A tenant who agrees to the landlord's conditions of renewal or who remains in the dwelling unit after the specified ending date in the fixed term rental agreement without the permission of the landlord must immediately repay to the landlord the relocation assistance paid by the landlord pursuant to subparagraph (b)3.a. of this subsection (17).

(c) Rent Increases.

1. Except for those landlords and tenancies exempt from payment of relocation assistance as provided in subparagraphs (f) and (g) of this subsection (17), a landlord that intends to increase a tenant's rent by the maximum annual rent increase percentage as set by the State of Oregon pursuant to ORS 90.324 must deliver a written notice of rent increase to each affected tenant at least 90 days before the date of the rent increase designated in the notice. The notice of rent increase must specify the amount of the new rent, the dollar amount by which the rent will increase, the percentage of the increase, and the date the increase will become effective. The notice of rent increase must also specify the amount of relocation assistance for which the tenant is eligible and must include a description of the tenant's rights and obligations under this subsection (17). Expiration of rent concessions specified in a rental agreement is not considered a rent increase for purposes of this subparagraph (c).

2. A tenant who receives the notice of rent increase required by subparagraph (c)1. of this subsection (17), may, within 30 days of the date of the notice, request in writing relocation assistance from the landlord.

3. If a tenant requests relocation assistance pursuant to subparagraph (c)2. of this subsection (17), the landlord must pay the tenant relocation assistance in an amount equal to two months' rent for the dwelling unit. The landlord must pay the relocation assistance required by this subparagraph (c)3. at least 45 days prior to the date of the rent increase stated in the rent increase notice required by subparagraph (c)1. of this subsection (17). The relocation assistance required by this subparagraph (c)3. applies per dwelling unit and not per each individual tenant.

4. A tenant who receives relocation assistance pursuant to subparagraph (c)3. of this subsection (17) must, within 45 days of the date of receipt of the relocation assistance, either:

a. Provide the landlord with written notice of termination of the rental agreement and vacate the dwelling unit; or

b. Repay the relocation assistance to the landlord and remain in the dwelling unit, subject to the increased rent as provided in the rent increase notice required by subparagraph (c)1. of this subsection (17).

(d) Relocation Assistance Limited. A tenant may only receive relocation assistance once per tenancy. Receipt and subsequent repayment of relocation assistance pursuant to subparagraph (c)4.b. of this subsection (17) does not count as receipt of relocation assistance for purposes of this subparagraph (d).

(e) Within 60 days of payment of relocation assistance pursuant to this subsection (17), a landlord must report the payment to the city.

(f) The following are exempt from the relocation assistance requirements of this subsection (17) as long as the landlord complies with the requirements of subparagraph (g) of this subsection (17):

1. Week-to-week tenancies;

2. Occupancy of the same dwelling unit by the landlord and tenant where the landlord occupies the dwelling unit as the landlord's principal residence for at least six months prior to one of the relocation assistance eligible events set forth in subparagraphs (a) – (c) of this subsection (17).

Tenants that occupy one unit of middle housing when the landlord's principal residence is another unit of middle housing on the same lot or parcel and the landlord occupies the unit of middle housing as the landlord's principal residence for at least six months prior to one of the relocation assistance eligible events set forth in subparagraphs (a) – (c) of this subsection (17).
